

Fusion Reporting and Paragon Announce Strategic Partnership

ATLANTA, GA – August 12, 2011 – Fusion Reporting, a leading provider of court reporting solutions and Paragon, Atlanta's Premier e-discovery provider, today announced a strategic partnership. The agreement benefits clients of both companies by providing direct access to the services and solutions of each that are frequently needed in complex legal matters involving both data discovery and court reporting.

As leaders in their industries, Fusion and Paragon provide innovative solutions needed in today's legal market. Fusion delivers 21st century court reporting technology and solutions to attorneys and Paragon provides industry leading e-discovery, early case assessment and hosted review solutions.

"Technology in the legal industry is increasing at an accelerated pace," said Craig Saunders, President of Fusion Reporting. "We are thrilled to team up with Paragon to help meet this demand."

"At Paragon, we partner with industry leaders to offer best-of-breed technologies and comprehensive solutions to our clients," said Paragon's President, Paul Cowley. "Working with Fusion is a perfect fit for our model and we are excited to be able to offer our clients some unique court reporting technologies during the litigation process."

ABOUT PARAGON – Paragon was founded with an intimate knowledge of the community's need for quality service under rigid time constraints. Our Consultants become an extension of the management team helping to harness technology and gain a competitive advantage while saving time and money. To guarantee the immediate stellar service, we are committed to local solutions which include comprehensive commitment to project management, process education and training. Our wide variety of services include the collection and processing of electronically stored information (ESI), copying, scanning and printing services- including oversized printing of trial and exhibit presentation boards. To learn more, visit us at www.ParagonAFA.com .

ABOUT FUSION REPORTING – Fusion is a premier provider of certified court reporters, legal videographers and video conferencing. Our reporters are the most experienced reporters in the industry and our experience with complex litigation ensures efficient handling of all your court reporting needs. With reporters and conference rooms located coast to coast, you can count on Fusion to provide you with all of your court reporting needs, no matter the time or location. The technologies provided by Fusion include mobile applications for your Blackberry, Android, and Apple devices. The Fusion mobile application allows attorneys to access their deposition calendar, transcripts, exhibits and video depositions all from a secure mobile environment. To learn more, visit us at www.FusionReporting.com .